German Hauptschulabschluss, Realschulabschluss, Hochschulreife

If you have obtained a Hauptschulabschluss, Realschulabschluss or Allgemeine Hochschulreife in Germany, regardless of the federal state, you do not need recognition if you move to another federal state, as these school-leaving qualifications are automatically valid and recognised nationwide in Germany.

If you have obtained the Hauptschulabschluss and have also completed vocational training and would now like to have it checked whether you fulfil the requirements for obtaining the Realschulabschluss (9+3), please contact the vocational school at which you completed your training directly. The respective vocational school is responsible for the evaluation and for issuing a corresponding certificate.
